

Both sides the Tweed

Valse écossaise

Adaptée par Dick Gaughan (1979) à partir d'une chanson traditionnelle de James Hogg (1819), elle parle de la corruption impliquée dans les négociations qui ont mené à l'Acte d'Union de 1707 qui liait l'Écosse et l'Angleterre. La rivière Tweed marque une partie de la frontière entre ces deux pays.

Paroles

What's the spring breathing jasmine and rose
 What's the summer with all its gay train
 What's the splendour of autumn to those Who've bartered their freedom for gain

*Refrain : Let the love of our land's sacred rights
 To the love of our people succeed
 Let friendship and honour unite
 And flourish on both sides the Tweed*

No sweetness the senses can cheer
 Which corruption and bribery bind
 No brightness the sun can e'er clear
 For honour's the sum of the mind

Let virtue distinguish the brave
 Place riches in lowest degree
 Think them poorest who can be a slave
 Them richest who dare to be free

Both sides the Tweed
